Dear Hiring Manager,

This role is fundamentally about what I do best: managing long-term partner relationships, growing retention and revenue, and negotiating incentives and co-marketing — as a steady, service-minded partner rather than a cold-acquisition hunter. I'm also a native Spanish speaker with C1 English (useful for LATAM and cross-cultural partner work) and a personal crypto user and investor who follows the exchange and Web3 ecosystem closely.

Relationship and key account management is the spine of my career. At Alibaba's Miravia I managed a 42-account partner portfolio, growing revenue +30% QoQ through tiered promotions, incentives and co-marketing, while negotiating commercial terms, onboarding 30+ partners with due diligence, handling escalations and competitor pressure, and monitoring performance and behavioural trends to flag risks and opportunities. Today at DoFreeze I manage creator, KOL and channel-partner relationships across 50+ markets — incentive and collaboration programmes, joint campaigns and cross-functional work with marketing, product, operations and finance. That maps directly onto affiliate lifecycle management, partner incentive systems, dispute handling and performance monitoring.

I'll be straight about fit: my industry background is consumer internet, marketplaces and FMCG rather than years inside a crypto/FX exchange, so I'd be learning the specific affiliate rebate mechanics and trading-abuse risk signals rather than arriving with them. What I bring is a very strong, transferable KAM and B2B partnership foundation, genuine personal crypto experience and enthusiasm for the space, cross-cultural/Spanish coverage, and the patient, high-EQ, service-oriented style this role calls for — plus I ramp fast and I'm already based in Dubai and set up to work remotely.

I'd welcome the chance to show how I'd protect and grow a MENA affiliate portfolio — stabilising key relationships, spotting early churn or competitor signals, and designing incentive and co-marketing programmes that grow performance responsibly. Thank you for considering my application — I'd be glad to discuss how my partnership track record would transfer to Binance's affiliate ecosystem.

Best regards,

Paula De Francisco Pérez
