Dear Hiring Manager,

I would like to apply for the Category Executive role in the Ultrafresh team at Careem Groceries. I already work with Careem every week, from the other side of the table: as Brand & Marketing Manager at DoFreeze, a UAE food group, I handle our listings, promotions and stock on Careem, talabat and Noon. I want to move to the platform side and build a career in grocery category management.

Much of this role is already part of my week. I run a weekly stock-risk review by dark store, checking whether platform purchase orders cover upcoming demand, and flag gaps before products go out of stock. I keep listings, content and images accurate, plan promotions with the platforms and measure them properly: a SMASH x talabat campaign lifted daily sales by 165% while a control brand grew 4.7%. I reviewed our must-stock lists by channel with the e-commerce sales team and contribute to our monthly sell-in forecast. Before Dubai, I grew 42 brand accounts by 30% GMV quarter on quarter at Alibaba's Miravia through pricing, assortment and promotions, and started my career in Category Planning at Mondelez, tracking sell-in, sell-out and promotional effectiveness.

To be transparent: I have not yet worked in Ultrafresh. My categories have been packaged food, beauty and fashion, so the fresh supplier landscape, seasonality and quality standards are what I would learn first. I would bring what transfers directly: I know how suppliers think about Careem, how POs and dark-store replenishment work, and how to run a promotion calendar against sales and availability data in Excel and Google Sheets.

I am based in Dubai and would welcome the chance to discuss how I could support the Category Manager from day one. Thank you for your consideration.

Best regards,

Paula De Francisco Pérez
