

16 August 2026

Dear Hiring Manager,

Chalhoub Group has spent seven decades turning luxury into experiences the region trusts, and few brands embody that promise like SkinCeuticals — a medical-aesthetic name whose D2C business lives or dies on how credible and premium its online experience feels. Owning that direct-to-consumer business end-to-end, and steering it to profitable growth in the Middle East, is exactly the challenge I want next. As an e-commerce marketer already based in Dubai who runs a D2C store every day, I was genuinely excited to see the Ecommerce Specialist role open.

As Brand & Marketing Manager at DoFreeze, I own our D2C Shopify business end-to-end — strategy, catalogue, UX, content, merchandising and checkout — and I run it against commercial KPIs and A&P budget, lifting conversion (CRO) and average order value. I build the e-business animation calendar that drives traffic through search, paid media (Meta and Google, steered on ROAS) and CRM/EDM, then use first-party data and loyalty to grow retention and customer lifetime value. Earlier, at Alibaba's Miravia marketplace, I owned the Beauty & Fragrances online category across 42 accounts — growing GMV +30% QoQ and running the Flash Sales P&L reporting to the CEO — so I know how a premium beauty business is merchandised, promoted and measured online.

Two things set me apart for this role. First, I combine genuine e-commerce P&L ownership with real beauty depth — I don't just execute campaigns, I steer the numbers behind traffic, conversion, spend efficiency and repeat purchase. Second, I am already in Dubai on a UAE residence visa (no relocation, no ramp-up on the GCC consumer), bilingual Spanish/English, and AI-native: I built a generative-AI system that cut reporting and content workload ~40%, which means faster, sharper reads on the D2C data whenever a growth window opens or a competitor moves.

I would love to bring this mix of D2C ownership, P&L rigor and beauty craft to SkinCeuticals' growth story in the Middle East. I am available to start immediately and would welcome the chance to walk through how I would approach the animation calendar, the first-party-data strategy and the online experience. Thank you for your consideration — I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

Paula De Francisco Pérez

+971 50 386 3656 | paulich98@hotmail.com