Dear Kieron Hall,

I'm writing about the Key Account Manager role you're leading for a premium beverage distributor in Dubai. Representing a portfolio of global spirits, wine and beer brands across the city's luxury hospitality scene is exactly the kind of premium, relationship-led commercial challenge I look for — growing accounts through distribution, visibility, listings and standout activation. I'd welcome the chance to bring my key account and premium-brand track record to your client's On-Trade team.

Key account management is the spine of my career. At Alibaba's Miravia I owned 42 key accounts and grew GMV +30% QoQ through commercial negotiation, assortment, pricing and targeted promotions — including onboarding premium and luxury fragrance houses such as Arabian Oud, Lattafa, Swiss Arabian and Ajmal, and reporting channel P&L directly to the CEO. At Glovo I managed strategic F&B and hospitality accounts — KFC, Taco Bell, La Tagliatella, Sushi Shop — negotiating and closing high-impact commercial deals and building bespoke activations. Today, as Brand & Marketing Manager at DoFreeze, I orchestrate distributor execution across the UAE and 50+ markets: listing agreements, promotions, brand activations and on-shelf visibility, with KPI reporting to senior leadership.

I'll be candid: my accounts have been in premium beauty, fragrance, fashion and F&B rather than spirits, wine and beer specifically, and I'm building — not inheriting — an On-Trade network in Dubai. But the commercial muscle is the same: I grow premium accounts through distribution, rate-of-sale, listings and activation, I'm a confident relationship-builder with buyers and partners, and I thrive in fast-paced, high-growth environments. I already work inside the UAE market and its distributor and trade landscape, I learn categories fast, and I'm genuinely drawn to premium hospitality culture — the kind of passion this portfolio deserves.

I'd be excited to represent your client's premium beverage portfolio and grow its presence across Dubai's luxury On-Trade. I'm already based in Dubai on a UAE residence visa and available to start immediately, with no relocation required. Thank you for considering my application, Kieron — I'd welcome a conversation about how I'd approach building and growing these accounts. I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

Paula De Francisco Pérez
