Dear Hiring Manager,

Fluke's channel program — partner-led growth, co-op with premium partners, POS reach and channel readiness that lets distributors sell effectively — is exactly the kind of channel marketing I run every week, just in FMCG and retail distribution rather than test & measurement. The Channel Marketing Manager MEAT role caught my attention because it asks for what I already do: build annual partner plans and co-op activations, roll out central campaigns and NPIs at key partners, and drive demand and ROI through the channel — now supercharged with AI-driven marketing, which happens to be my sharpest edge.

Channel and trade marketing through distributors is the spine of my career. Today, as Brand & Marketing Manager at DoFreeze — a global FMCG distributor — I build channel and trade plans across 50+ markets, including the Middle East and Africa, working with distributor and modern-trade partners on annual joint plans, co-op activations, promo mechanics and NPI roll-outs, while owning A&P and co-op budgets tracked on ROI. Before Dubai, I owned 42 key accounts at Alibaba's Miravia and grew GMV +30% QoQ through joint business plans, targeted promotions and assortment/pricing with strategic partners — including official distributors of leading Arabian and oud houses. In FMCG we call it trade marketing; the mechanics — partner go-to-market, POS reach, co-op budgets and sell-out — are the same ones this role runs.

Two things set me apart. First, AI-driven marketing: I built a Claude/GPT automation engine for segmentation, campaign planning, content and KPI reporting — precisely the AI-powered optimization the role calls for, and a capability I can bring on day one. Second, digital demand generation and ROI discipline: I run Meta and Google Ads, lead and funnel generation and CRO, always measured on ROI/ROAS. I'll be candid that my channel experience sits in FMCG and retail distribution (distributors, modern trade, quick-commerce) rather than VARs and electrical wholesalers in test & measurement — but the partner mechanics transfer directly, and I ramp fast on a new vertical and product set. I'm also already in Dubai on a UAE residence visa, so I can start without a relocation timeline.

I would be excited to bring this blend of channel and trade marketing, AI-driven demand generation and ROI discipline to Fluke's partner ecosystem across the Middle East, Africa and Turkey. I am available to start immediately and would welcome the chance to discuss how I would approach partner co-op plans, NPI roll-out and pipeline growth across the MEAT channel. Thank you for your consideration — I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

Paula De Francisco Pérez
