Dear Hiring Manager,

The Digital Marketing & E-Commerce Growth Manager brief — turn online visibility into measurable revenue by owning the store, paid, organic, email and landing pages, and connecting every activity to conversions and sales rather than vanity metrics — describes how I already work. I run e-commerce growth end-to-end today, I'm analytical and hands-on in equal measure, and I'm fully set up for focused remote work.

As Brand & Marketing Manager at DoFreeze I own the Shopify store end-to-end — catalogue, product content, category structure, pricing, promotions, UX and checkout — lifting conversion rate (CRO) and average order value through data-led merchandising, bundles, cross-sell and abandoned-cart recovery. I plan and optimise paid media (Google Ads, Meta Ads) with remarketing and budgets managed to ROAS and cost per lead; run segmented email/EDM lifecycle campaigns; build high-converting landing pages for retail, wholesale and reseller audiences; and track conversion, traffic, AOV and revenue in dashboards with clear attribution. I manage large product catalogues across 50+ markets, and my generative-AI work (Claude/GPT) gives me a genuine head start on AEO and GEO — optimising content toward AI-generated search results.

I'll be straightforward about fit. My B2B experience is commercial rather than a classic inbound MQL-to-SQL pipeline: as a Key Account Manager at Alibaba's Miravia and Glovo I sold to and through businesses, distributors and resellers — managing 42 accounts, growing GMV +30% QoQ and onboarding 30+ reseller-run stores in two months — which maps directly to generating qualified B2B enquiries, bulk and wholesale orders and reseller opportunities. On tooling, I'm Shopify-native and strong on content, paid and analytics; I use Salesforce for CRM and run email automation, and I'm quick to pick up Klaviyo, HubSpot and the technical-SEO stack (SEMrush, Ahrefs, Screaming Frog) — I'd rather be honest about where I'm deepening than overclaim it. I have close to five years across e-commerce and commercial roles, excellent written English (C1) and strong commercial copywriting.

I'd welcome the chance to walk through how I'd approach the first 90 days — auditing the store and funnel for the quickest CRO and AOV wins, prioritising the paid, organic and email bets with the best return, and standing up the dashboards and experimentation cadence to prove revenue impact fast. I'm set up for flexible remote collaboration across time zones. Thank you for considering my application — I'd be glad to share specifics and portfolio examples of the e-commerce growth I've driven.

Best regards,

Paula De Francisco Pérez
