Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm applying for the Regional Marketing Manager (EEMENA) position at Abbott. Building and executing marketing plans across diverse regional markets is the core of my current role — I develop and run multi-market plans across 50+ countries in GCC, MENA and Europe, exactly the regional coordination this role requires.

Your responsibilities — regional plan development, launch execution, budget management, customer segmentation and competitor intelligence — map directly to my work at DoFreeze and Alibaba's Miravia. I lead product launches end-to-end, own marketing budgets alongside finance, and use segmentation and market-dynamics analysis to shape positioning, with +30% GMV QoQ as a proof point of commercial impact.

I work naturally in fast-paced, matrixed organisations, aligning marketing, sales and finance toward shared goals, and I'm comfortable interpreting data into clear actions and tracking KPIs. While my background is FMCG/e-commerce rather than diagnostics, my regional marketing toolkit transfers directly, and I'm a fast learner. I'm Dubai-based with a residence visa and open to the travel the role involves.

I'd welcome the opportunity to discuss how my multi-market marketing experience can support Abbott's EEMENA goals. I'm available for a conversation at your convenience — thank you for considering my application.

Best regards,

Paula De Francisco Pérez
