Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm applying for your Digital Marketing Specialist – E-commerce role. Driving third-party e-commerce sales through marketplaces is exactly where I operate: I manage brands across Noon, Amazon, Talabat and Careem today, and I was trained inside Alibaba's Miravia, one of the world's largest marketplaces.

Your responsibilities — performance marketing, listing and keyword optimisation, campaign structuring and relentless ACoS/ROAS/CTR/CVR tracking — are my core toolkit. I run paid media with bid and budget management, optimise listings for organic-and-paid synergy, and report weekly on the metrics that matter, cutting wasted spend while scaling top performers. At Miravia I delivered +30% GMV QoQ across 42 accounts.

I bring a genuine understanding of Middle East e-commerce buying behaviour (Noon, Amazon.ae, quick-commerce) and a data-driven mindset that turns complex performance data into action — now accelerated by AI tools I use for keyword research and listing copy. I'm Dubai-based with a residence visa and ready to start quickly.

I'd love to discuss how I can grow Movado's third-party e-commerce sales across the region. I'm available this week and happy to walk through marketplace campaigns I've optimised — thank you for considering my application.

Best regards,

Paula De Francisco Pérez
